A very pretty wedding last evening was that of Miss Vera Farr and Lawrence P. Smith, of the Consolidated road, at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Farr, on State street, corner of Edwards street. The house was very handsomely trimmed with flowers and plants. Rev. Mr. Timm performed the marriage ceremony. Miss Christina Maiden, of Bridgeport, was bridesmaid and James Maher, of Porters street, was best man. The bride was charmingly attired in white tulle and the bridesmaid in pink tulle. A delightful reception followed, attended by many relatives and friends, and a fine wedding feast was served. The happy couple left later on a wedding trip and will be at home October 1 at their new home on Second street, City Point.

Jacob Nepe, of New York city, for many years a well-known and prosperous jeweler on Church street, this city, and afterward for years in business on State street, near Chapel street, was in town yesterday on a flying visit. Among other personal friends to whom he paid his respects was Mayor Studley. Mr. Nepe is in the jewelry business in New York city, as he has been for eighteen years, or since leaving New Haven. His many friends were glad to greet him. He returns to New York today.

Lovely Waistings And Autumn Flannelettes

One can scarcely know how to give any idea of the new Mercerized Waistings. You've just got to see them that's all. It doesn't seem possible to get such exquisite effects in cottons and above all it's a sacrifice almost to call them cottons.

There's all black, and that's rare you know, getting an effective all-black pattern in cotton stuffs; and all-white; black and white together in stunning combinations; the new champagne color; a Scotch Plaid truly charming in coloring, and so we could go on talking about these new Mercerized things indefinitely and not exhaust the subject.

Only 50c's, 50c's and 60c's a Yard
Some exclusive things here too that we can't repeat, says the buyer.

The new Cheviots for shirtings and waistings have just come. Half a hundred new colorings at least. They're immensely smart looking and suggest everything that's clean and light and dust proof and comfortable for those who like Wash Shirt Waists all the year round, 25c's a Yard

New Flannelettes again, nice for house dresses, wrappers and the like. Light and dark colors, 10c's a Yard

And a fresh shipment of the 36 in. wide Arnold Flannelettes especially nice for kimono's. They never made such pretty Persian patterns and polka dot colorings and that's high praise for Arnold Flannelettes are famous, 15c's a Yard

You'll like these Cotton Scotch Plaids for children's dresses. They've made them more than like the wool stuffs than ever 12c's and 15c's a Yard

The wedding of Miss Elizabeth Zapp and Stephen Dade took place at the home of the bride's parents, 787 Quinlan avenue, on the evening of September 7. The Rev. James Stocking, assistant pastor of the Church of the Redeemer, performed the ceremony in the parlor, which was prettily decorated with palms, golden rod and dahlias. Miss Belle Wipper was the maid of honor, and only a few friends and relatives of the couple were present. Mr. and Mrs. Dade received many handsome gifts. Upon their return from a short wedding trip the young couple will make their home in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Welch of this city are occupying one of the Munger cottages at the shore, East River.

The marriage of John McCarthy and Miss Margaret N. Breen of this city was solemnized yesterday morning at St. Mary's R. C. church. The bride was charmingly attired in a traveling suit of tan. The maid of honor was Miss Nellie Breen of Hartford, a sister of the bride. The best man was J. Malone of this city. The young couple left for Niagara Falls and other places. Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy will be at home to their many friends this Wednesday in October at 47 Chapel street.

In the presence of a great many friends, last evening at 7 o'clock, occurred the marriage of Miss Alice Pearson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Feyson Judd, and Edward Lewis Durfee, Yale '96, of New York. The wedding took place at the Church of the Redeemer, the officiating clergyman being the Rev. Dr. Watson Lyman Phillips, assisted by Dr. William Hesse, Yale '96. The bride had one attendant, a maid of honor, Miss Mabel L. Bradley, daughter of General Bradley of York street. Her gown was white point de esprit, over tulle, trimmed with narrow ribbons and lace. She carried a large arm bouquet of pink bridesmaid roses. Mr. Durfee had for his best man and ushers, his friends and classmates, the former George S. Buck, the latter Lewis R. Conklin of New York, Charles W. Birely of this city, Robert Woods Chandler, Yale 1901, and Dr. Herbert B. Gregory. William Woods Chandler presided at the organ, playing a very fine programme during the bridal service. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and her gown was of white tulle veiling with a handsome point lace collar. Her veil, which fell to the edge of the long train was caught up with orange blossoms. She carried a large shower bouquet of white roses. After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, which had been beautifully decorated by Florist Moore with ferns, palms and smilax, daintily combined with festal white asters. The wedding supper was in charge of Stewart. Early in the evening Mr. and Mrs. Durfee left for an extended bridal trip and upon their return they will make their home at 95 Cottage street. During November they expect to give several "at homes." The bride's going away gown was a handsome dark blue broadcloth, tailor made, with a pale gray satin lining. She wore a white silk waist and with this suit and blue hat and veil to match. Mr. Durfee graduated from Yale in 1896, returning to take a post-graduate course, making history his special study. For the past year he has been completing his work at Harvard, and has now accepted a place as instructor in history at Yale, beginning his work when the college year opens.

THE ORANGE FAIR.

Large Crowd in Attendance—Exhibits Splendid.

The Orange fair opened yesterday in a blaze of glory and even though there was a terrific storm in the afternoon, which visited the ground, very little damage resulted. The show this year is one of the most complete of any yet held and it gives promise of being one of the best attended. The displays of live stock, poultry, vegetables and other things are complete in every detail and were much enjoyed by all present yesterday.

With the experience of past years as articles were hurried to a place of safety. They will all be put in place again this morning and be ready for the many hundreds who are expected to be present. Governor Chamberlain has signified his intention, and also N. D. Sperry, to be present to-day, as the guests of the Orange Agricultural society.

In the races yesterday in the D. W. Baldwin harness track F. F. Potter won first money, with Glen Belle, in three straight.

One of the special features of to-day and to-morrow will be the floral parade which will be one of the most beautiful exhibits ever witnessed.

A guide none of the articles were damaged in the tents by the storm. The tents were all lowered and many
