

OXFORD.

Oxford, Aug. 5.—Y. H. Snow and wife of Guilford, have been visiting with friends in Oxford for about a week, and he took part in the services at the Congregational Church Sunday.

Mrs. Harris Richardson and two children, of St. Paul, Minn., are with her aunt, Mrs. Kate M. Davis.

Mrs. James Roberts has been visiting her sister, Mrs. De Hart, in Bridgeport, for about a week.

Joseph Crowther has gone to Poughkeepsie, N. Y., to assist in the settling of the estates of two deceased sisters.

The roads about town are in very rough condition, caused by washouts during the recent unprecedented rains, and it is not a convenient time to repair them, as farmers are all busy gathering their grain and hay while the sun shines.

Miss Holbrook of Moses Hill, daughter of Mr. George H. Holbrook, has been engaged to teach the Center School.

There are letters advertised as uncalled for in the Oxford Postoffice, addressed to Mrs. L. H. Brown; Charles Denphuran and Frank Ogden.

The ladies of the Congregational Church are to give a concert in the church next Tuesday evening, August, 10th. A number of fine musicians from out of town are expected to take part.
