

OXFORD PEOPLE PROTEST.

Think One Licensed Hotel is Enough For Their Town.

There was an interesting hearing before the County Commissioners this forenoon on the question of granting a license to George E. Crofut of Oxford. Mr. Crofut proposes to run a hotel with a bar-room attached. A number of Oxford people object, saying that there is already one licensed hotel in the place and that is enough to supply the trade. Another saloon could only live on the trade of an undesirable element which it would attract to the town.
